

ISOC-NY Public Meeting - Friday Feb 5 2010 7pm NYU

Eben Moglen - 'Freedom in the Cloud'

Software Freedom, Privacy and Security for Web 2.0 and Cloud Computing

Eben Moglen, Professor of Law and Legal History at Columbia University, and founder, Director-Counsel and Chairman of the Software Freedom Law Center, will speak about "Freedom in the Cloud: Software Freedom, Privacy and Security for Web 2.0 and Cloud Computing" on Friday, February 5, 2010, 7-9 pm. This event will be webcast live.

Everyone wants a piece of you these days: Google, Facebook, Flickr, Apple, AT&T, Bing. They'll give you free e-mail, free photo storage, free web hosting, even a free date. They just want to listen in. And you can't wait to let them. They'll store your stuff, they'll organize your photos, they'll keep track of your appointments, as long as they can watch. It all goes into the "Cloud."

How we got here is quite a scary story. But nowhere near as scary as getting out again. Eben Moglen, a Professor of Law and Legal History at Columbia University and the founding director of the Software Freedom Law Center, warned you about privacy and the cloud before. At a public meeting of the Internet Society of New York on February 5, Moglen will ask you to consider how much worse things have become since then and explain what you can do to reclaim your freedom in the era of Web 2.0.

- * What: ISOC-NY Public Meeting: Eben Moglen – 'Freedom In The Cloud'
- * When: Fri. Feb 5 2010 7pm-9pm
- * Where: Room 109, Warren Weaver Hall NYU,
251 Mercer Street NYC (enter on West 4th)
- * Who: Public Welcome - Admission Free
- * Webcast: <http://www.livestream.com/isocny>
- * More info: <http://www.isoc-ny.org/?p=1338>
- * Sponsors: ISOC-NY, NYU ACM, Brooklyn Law Incubator & Policy Clinic

